BEHIND THE SCENES WITH HBJ'S WOMEN WHO MEAN BUSINESS

The Houston Business Journal hosted its 40 Women Who Mean Business finalists at a photo shoot earlier this month to prep for the publication and awards ceremony, to be held on May 11.

Their applications alone showed that they are successful in the career world, but we wanted to dive a little deeper and learn how they succeed in their personal lives.

We asked some of our finalists how they balance being a business woman and a mother, partner, spouse, friend and more. Answers varied from avoiding Houston's treacherous traffic, to retail and fitness therapy, to learning to juggle, to one of the most common answers — delegating.

DON'T MISS OUT

The Houston Business Journal has revealed the finalists for our Inaugural Women Who Mean Business awards.

WWMB finalists were chosen in the categories of for-profit, nonprofit and women to watch.

The criteria for selection included career achievement, contribution to company and city success, community involvement and leadership.

A panel of judges and HBJ editors selected the finalists and winners.

All the finalists will be honored, and the top women in the nonprofit and for-profit categories will be announced at the Women Who Mean Business awards event on May 11. The event will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Hilton Americas-Houston downtown.

Visit HoustonBusinessJournal.com to see all the finalists and to register for the event.
